Dear UCI Dancers,

Finally, it's finals week! Your Dance-related news is below, including information about equipment drop-off this Thursday, March 18th, from 11 am - noon, and summer session classes.

We are so proud of all the hard work that you've put in this year, and we can't say that enough. It is a bittersweet one-year anniversary of when this pandemic began, and while the in-person classes are sorely missed, we are truly grateful for your ability to show up and rise to the unique challenge that remote-learning brings. As we have seen in our past online performances, the creative mind continues to grow alongside our technological capabilities, and our out-of-the-box thinking further strengthens us as artists.

Please enjoy a (safe!) spring break away from Zoom, emails, and/or your studies, and we will reconnect with you on Monday, March 29th!
