

Hello Drama Seniors!

Here's a reminder!

I hope you're having a great end to the winter quarter and are looking forward to a nice spring break. I'm writing to let you know that the application for Honors in Drama are currently open. The Honors in Drama is a designation designed to recognize the generalist undergraduate Drama student, one who has chosen to focus on breadth in their education as opposed to depth in one area. Such students are often ineligible to be considered for Honors in a specific area (Acting, Design, etc.), and the Honors in Drama designation is a recognition of the high quality of scholarship and work that the student has accomplished within the Department.

Please see the linked pdf for an overview of the program and the application form. You can send applications and/or questions directly to me at olivieri@uci.edu. Applications are due to me by 5pm on Monday 1 April.
