Hello Fellow Arts Students!

As Arts students, everything going on in the world has affected us arguably more than any of the other students on campus. Trying to keep up with our school work with the added stresses from a pandemic, racial unrest, multiple fires around the state, and an unprecedented election can seem unbearable to manage. Not to mention finding inspiration and creativity to fuel our artistic needs.

Come join us on Friday, 11/20 @ 3PM PST to discuss the challenges of staying creative and motivated as an undergraduate Arts student during this time and to find ways to continue to create and stay motivated as we go into the holidays and into the next quarter. We want this workshop to be a place for us to congregate and have an honest conversation about what is happening in the world, how it impacts our work, and share the ways we can support each other to navigate these challenges we have to face.
To register, click here or scan the QR code. Complete the form and you will receive an email confirmation with the Zoom link. Please be sure that you are using your UCI email when registering and attending the session. To convert your time zone use https://www.timeanddate.com/worldclock/converter.html.

If you have any questions, please let us know via Arts Chat or at arts counselor@uci.edu. We hope you can join us!
