Transfer Transition to Graduate School Luncheon

The Transfer Student Center cordially invites you to a networking luncheon designed specifically for transfer students interested in exploring graduate education opportunities! Join us for an intimate gathering where you'll connect with accomplished faculty members and current graduate students who have successfully navigated the path from undergraduate to graduate studies. This engaging luncheon provides a unique opportunity to learn firsthand about the graduate school experience, application process, and what it takes to succeed at the next level of your academic journey.

This event is perfect for transfer students at any stage, whether you're just beginning to consider graduate school or actively preparing your applications. All majors and academic interests are welcome!

Enjoy a complimentary lunch while building valuable connections that could shape your academic future. Space is limited, so register early to secure your spot!
