

Dear UCI Dancers,

It's officially week 4! We are excited that the University has confirmed our return to in-person instruction beginning Monday, January 31, 2022. As the department continues to plan for our safe return, we will be sure to update you with any changes for the upcoming quarter. Remember, it takes all of us to make this work, so please continue to be responsible with your choices, and ensure you are following all safety and cleanliness protocols from the University.

Please see your Dance-related news below, with reminders about PT appointment scheduling via Calendly, and a request for research participants from second year Dance graduate, Anna Medina.

WEEK 4 NEWS

Reminder* Dance Dept. Physical Therapy | Schedule Through Calendly

Please schedule your appointment here via Calendly.

The virtual PT appointments with Dr. Rob are up to 20 minutes each. If this is your first visit, or if there is a new injury that is different from your previous appointment, please fill out the UC Irvine Dance Med Intake/Injury Form, available on the scheduling page, prior to your appointment.

Reminder* Graduate Student Research – Participant Request

Second year grad student Anna Medina is conducting research titled, “The Impact of Local Government Support on Arts Organizations and Their Communities.” Anna is looking for current UCI students that have attended non-profit art schools as part of their dance education to participate as interviewees. If you were a student of an organization that receives government funding, teaches in local schools, or gives out scholarships, you might be eligible to participate. As a participant in this study, you would agree to a short interview that will be held via Zoom, telephone, or in-person, and will last no more than 30 minutes. The questions will be sent to you in advance.

If you are willing to contribute or would need more information regarding this research, please contact Anna via email at afmedina@uci.edu. Thank you!

Sincerely,

Molly Lynch, Chair
